Lomita Village Home Now A Living Language Lab

During the last ten days or so, Linda Lou Jollett, 16-year-old Morse High School student of Lomita Village, probably has had more practice speaking Spanish than her house guest from south of the border has had speaking English.

The reason may be that Linda Lou speaks pretty good Spanish. Her Spanish teacher at school, Everett Thorne, is the originator of the unique "Living Language Program" in which the girls are taking part.

The H. W. "Howie" Jollett home at 303 Sears Ave. became bilingual with the arrival July 5 of 13-year-old Nora Belinda Neuenschwander. She is one of 51 Guadalajara señoritas now in the San Diego area taking part in the first phase of the program.

Each Guadalajara girl is living as a member of her host family for a month, presumably speaking only English and sharing in the routine of daily living.

Cranston Slaps Extremism

California State Controller Alan Cranston, a former newspaperman, provided a thoughtful speech to the Town Hall at the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles Tuesday.

His remarks had to do with "extremism" and while he smacked the right extremists a little harder than he did the left, this is as it was to be expected, Mr. Cranston being a functionary of the Democratic Party. Weighing in this knowledge to study Mr. Cranston's speech, we were impressed by his plea for "massive doses of truth" and "faith in ourselves" to overcome the extremes of right and left.

Speaking much like a moderate, he said "Genuine conservatives and genuine liberals believe in honest debate over the many sides of an issue and are then willing to leave the decision to the will of the majority—and this is the very essence of democracy."

"But to the extremist, there is no other side. There is nothing to debate. There can be no compromise."

Strange sounding words for one who many have viewed as ultra liberal. Yet in our various conversations with Mr. Cranston we thought that he was less liberal than his party's platform.

How then did Controller Cranston become energized to address himself to this matter as though he were speaking with the conscience of a moderate?

It started, he said, when he recently received two bulky pieces of mail. One was a copy of "Progressive Labor," a monthly publication of the extremely left wing Progressive Labor Party. The magazine reported that Americans live in a fascist state, that President Johnson and Walter Ruether are among its conspiratorial leaders and stooges, and that President Kennedy was assassinated by the big business, state police machine. It said, according to Cranston, that all America would know this if the press were not controlled.

The second envelope, he said, contained a packet of material published by the extremely right wing John Birch Society. He said this packet told him that we live in a Communist state, that President Johnson and Walter Ruether are among its conspiratorial leaders and stooges, and that President Kennedy was assassinated by the Communists, for not being a good enough Communist. It said, according to Cranston, that all America would know this if the press were not controlled.

These two communications caused him to do a deep study on extremism which led to his Tuesday speech. And he did his homework well.

The extremist is on the move today, said Cranston. Some Cranstonisms on extremism:

The extremist is frightening a disturbingly large number of Americans, he tends to monopolize public discussion.

He beclouds concentration on the real issues, by focusing on the unreal.

He daunts the weak and timorous, especially at the local level.

He incites his neighbors to supplant reason and understanding with emotion and hate.

He divides and degrades America.

Donovan's Bill Affects Drivers Ages 16 to 18

Governor Edmund G. Brown (D) has scheduled today the signing of Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan's driver training bill (AB 1058). Donovan is in Sacramento at the request of the Governor to participate in the signing ceremony along with Bob Terry, California Driver's Training Association and Royal Neilson, California Traffic Safety Foundation.

Donovan originally introduced his driver training bill during the 1963 Session of the Legislature. This bill was passed by both the Assembly and the Senate only to be vetoed by the Governor when a slight defect was found in the bill. The measure provides that no drivers licenses may be issued to any person between the ages of 16 and 18 until he has completed both drivers training and driver education or some satisfactory substitute, if it is not available to him.

It is substantially the same measure which was vetoed by the Governor but with the items corrected which brought about the veto.

"The Governor's signature on this measure will be a long step forward in California's foresight approach to traffic safety problems," Donovan said. Donovan agreed that enrollments in driver training have grown very markedly in the past 10 years, so that enrollments would be expected to increase even more as a result of this new law requiring behind the wheel instruction before licensing. Recognizing that these increased enrollments will create increased costs to local schools, Donovan said he would request the Governor to add the subject of financing driver education and driver training to the 1966 Legislative Session.

State Fair Going All-Out For Teenagers

More than 200,000 teenagers are expected to attend the 1965 Teenage Fair during its presentation as the key feature of the California State Fair, Sept. 1-12 in Sacramento.

Described as a "world's fair" for young people, the $2 million extravaganza will spread across three acres of ground adjoining the midway and will include shows, pageants and attractions designed to make it the event of a lifetime for teenagers.

Major national companies are joining with local business leaders to provide fun, education and entertainment in this "fair within a fair."

A highlight of the jamboree will be the "Non-Stop Dance Hop," a 132-hour musical marathon featuring three bands performing around the clock for dancing on three stages.

Custom car enthusiasts will get their first look at expert Nick Mura's cars of the future and will marvel at the fabulous custom cars and hot rods on display during the entire show.

Another highlight event will be the national Miss Teen U. S. A. pageant. Teenage girls from the greater State Capital area will enter 11 days of competition for the title Miss Teen Northern Californian.

Two one-hour television "specials" will originate on KXTV, Channel 10, to telecast the Miss Teen U. S. A. Pageant. KROY radio will originate its entire broadcast schedule during Teenage Fair hours, 10 a.m. to 11 p.m.

The continuous Battle of the Bands event will pit teenage rock and roll groups against each other in a torrid competition to determine the outstanding combo in the area.

For the girls, a preview of fall fashions will be presented four times daily in a series of Fashion Shows. For the boys, sports thrill movies will be shown each day, featuring Walt Phillips' award-winning productions "Psyche Out" and "Sunset Surf Craze" plus filmed action shorts on hot rodding, motorcycling and dragsters.

In addition, there will be special Teenage Fair areas devoted entirely to dancing, beauty, sports, hobbies, food, photography and judo-karate thrill shows.

LANDMARK TO BE MOVED — Plans were being completed this week by Thaddeus (left) and Francis Sledzinski for moving the grave of their mother, Princess Filomena Wojcienkowski, alias Pajac, from the Sledzinski home just off Broadway, Lemon Grove, in the shadow of State Highway 94. A landmark for the last 14 years, her sons must move the grave because they have sold the property. The remains will be moved to Greenwood Cemetery, where their father is buried. The scene above has never been without flowers since the death of the princess, and according to her wish, the American and Polish flags have always flown from the flagpole nearby.

Brown Likely to OK Transit System Bill

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Governor Pat Brown made it clear Tuesday that opponents of the Schrade-Mill transit bill had to convince him that the legislation was bad for him to veto it.

About 220 persons attended the special hearing held by the governor to assist him in deciding whether to sign the bill that was introduced by Republican Senator Jack Schrade, San Diego and pushed by Democrat James Mills, San Diego. It appeared that the majority favored the bill, judging from the applause.

Brown said that he considers it the task of the legislature to pass laws. He said, "I seldom use the power given me of the veto and then only when convinced that the legislation is faulty."

The governor said that the decision will be made in the next seven or eight days. He has until July 23 to sign the bill, or 30 days from the end of the legislative session.

When the Bill becomes law, taxes will be levied against property owners in the areas to be served by the bus system.

These areas include Lemon Grove and Spring Valley. Brown was apparently convinced that most of the opponents to the bill were against it because of the way the bill is written and not because they are against a transit district. The purpose of the district is to ensure that there is an agency ready to buy and operate the San Diego Transit System if that company fails.

Eugene Holmes, company general manager, said that the time has already arrived and that the company expects to lose $300,000 this year. He said the company is seeking raises in school children fares and more service curtailments.

No Tax Hike Seen

Grossmont J.C. Budget Is Pushing $2½ Million

The Grossmont Junior College Board of Trustees OK'd the 1965-66 budget of $2,445,877 Monday night at its regular meeting, and set Aug. 3 as the date for the public hearing.

The budget calls for 10 percent more money than the previous one but the tax rate will remain, the same, reported John Hansen, college president. State revenue based on student load will make up the difference, he said.

The state allows $600 for each student. The college cost of operation is $575. This compares with $592 state average, he explained.

Population Rise Cited
The board set October 19 as the date for a $3½-million bond issue. The increased student population dictates the need for the funds, President Hansen reported. The college will house 2,850 students in 1965-66. Last year the enrollment was 2,450. In 1966-67, enrollment is expected to be 3,300.

The campus was built for an enrollment of 2,500 but the master plan allows for expansion to an enrollment of 4,000. Hansen said that it would take two years to accomplish the expansion if the issue passes in October.

The summer enrollment was 1,249, up 73 percent over last year's 722 enrollment, the board learned.

In other action, the board read a petition signed by 100 persons asking that the board re-examine its policy of permitting Communists to speak on a campus. After a lengthy discussion, the board made no change.

Nagy to Wage Depreciation Fight with Sups.

San Diego grocers and other businessmen have hired a property tax consultant to represent them in a tax protest before the County Board of Equalization.

John Nagy, who is a San Diegan with offices in Hollywood, ran for a seat in the Assembly in the 77th District in 1962. He was defeated. The County Board of Supervisors sits as a Board of Equalization between July 8 and 15.

Nagy is also president of Statewide Homeowners Association and has been critical of the assessor's policy of not allowing business equipment and fixtures to be depreciated below 50 percent of its historical value.

First Organized Protest

Nagy said this will be the first organized protest in California against the policy of the County Assessor on unsecured property. He said that while the county-wide average ratio in San Diego, as determined by the State Board of Equalization is 23.9%, the percentage used on inventories is 34% and as high as 200% and 300% on equipment and fixtures.

Most county assessors have equalized the assessment on inventories in recent years. Philip Watson, Los Angeles County Assessor, reduced the assessment on inventories by $600 million last year when he reduced the ratio from 39% to 25%. In Los Angeles the ratio on inventories was 45% under Watson's predecessor. It was Watson's intention to reduce the ratio gradually over a number of years, but was advised by his County Counsel that using a higher ratio on inventories is illegal.

"Assessor John McQuilken has come down to 34% from 40% on inventories in the last two years, even though he told the Assembly Revenue and Taxation Committee that he was 'safe' with the 40% ratio", Nagy stated.

Nagy has been researching property taxes in California for many years, and has written extensively on the subject. He is presently on a statewide speaking tour criticizing unequal assessments by county assessors. He said he is confident that the Board will give relief to those who protest because of a ruling against the S. D. Board by Judge George A. Lazar in a recent case.

School Job Hikes Permit Total

The building permit, issued in June, for the $515,000 elementary school now under construction on La Presa St. at San Diego St. in the La Presa district of Spring Valley boosted the value of permits issued during the month of the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area to almost a million dollars.

The total came to about one-sixth of the total of new construction authorized in the county as a whole.

Spring Valley permits totaling $226,800 were granted for a commercial building and eight one-family dwellings.

Lemon Grove permits totaling $208,800 were issued for one commercial building, two multiple dwelling buildings, and seven one-family dwellings.

In the La Presa area, in addition to the school permit, two one-family buildings with a combined value of $21,000 were authorized.

Spring Valley Firemen Aid In Cystic Fibrosis Drive

By Geraldine Gill

That all children love firemen is no news, but this week Spring Valley Firemen are demonstrating that they return the affection.

The plight of children affected by Cystic Fibrosis has touched the hearts of members of the local fire department. Under the able direction of Ronald Lucas, assisted by Richard Saff and William Allen, off-duty firemen will be distributing coin collectors to business establishments in the Spring Valley area. The program here is part of the current fund drive by the San Diego County chapter, National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Cystic Fibrosis is one of the most common serious chronic disorders of American infants and children. One in approximately every 1,000 babies is born with it. Avocado Growers Are Reminded to Irrigate Now Irrigation of avocado orchards is a must at this time of year, according to Don Gustafson, University of California farm advisor. He also reminded avocado growers in a talk at a recent growers' meeting that weed control is important.

"Irrigation is by far the most important cultural practice in the growing of avocados," he said. "No general set of rules can be given, since each orchard is an individual problem." He added that the moisture content in the first foot of soil is of great importance.

Weeds, he explained, compete for moisture and fertilizer, make gopher detection difficult and interfere generally with all orchard operations.

The main weed pest in San Diego County avocado orchards is bermuda grass. Chemical control with weed oil is the only recommended method for an established stand of bermuda grass. Repeated oil spraying is necessary for the killing of this weed pest. This may mean a drenching spray every two weeks until the grass cover has been eradicated.

The first spraying with oil kills the top growth, but does no damage to the roots and underground stems. The growth flush that comes back is using food stored in the root system. For maximum efficiency, each progressive spraying should take place at a point where regrowth has been about 20%.

A conscientious spray program can eliminate most of the bermuda grass in a year. Only spot spraying, then, would be necessary after the first year to keep the orchard free of this weed pest.

The Farm Advisor's office has a pamphlet on "Citrus and Avocado Weed Control" for distribution. Write for your copy to 5555 Overland Ave. Building 4, San Diego, 92123.

You Can Control Pesky Poison Oak With Chemicals

That pesky poison oak that causes so many people discomfort may now be controlled by a number of chemicals. A new bulletin entitled "Chemical Control of Woody Plants" by the California Agricultural Experiment Station lists Brush Killer, Amitrole, Silvex, AMS, and Picloram as being effective materials.

According to Victor W. Brown, University of California farm advisor, applications are most effective after all of the major stems have some mature leaves. Spraying should cease when the leaves start to turn red or yellow.

Complete control of poison oak usually requires more than one annual retreatment.

Relative Advantage

Brush killer is usually recommended for poison oak on rangeland because it will at the same time control most woody plants. Silvex is also a good material when applied at a very low volume with a mist blower. Picloram is a good killer of poison oak but some retreatment should be anticipated. Amitrole is preferred for poison oak control around the home and in parks because it is less likely to damage wanted plants and because it is effective over a longer period of the growing season than is brush killer. Amitrole will injure grass, however, and should be used with caution around conifers.

Certain herbicides are classified as injurious materials because drift from treated areas may affect surrounding desirable plants. Before they can be purchased or used, a permit must be obtained from the Agricultural Commissioner's Office. In all cases, follow the manufacturer's label and heed the warnings on the label explicitly.

For more information on control of other woody plants, write or call the Farm Advisor's Office, Bldg. 4, 5555 Overland Ave., phone 278-9200, Ext. 431, for the new bulletin, "Chemical Control of Woody Plants."

June Employment Hits New High

The number of employed Californians advanced seasonally in June to the highest level on record, and unemployment also was up seasonally as the school year closed. This report was issued last week by the state departments of Industrial Relations and Employment.

At 6,900,000, total civilian employment expanded by $9,000 from May, according to Ernest B. Webb, director of industrial relations. The June total represented a gain of 204,000, or 3.0 percent, from a year ago.

All major industrial categories added workers between May and June. Services, government, transportation - communication utilities, and the finance complex moved to new highs. The May-June gain in manufacturing was smaller than usual primarily because of trade disputes at an aerospace plant and among cabinetmakers in northern California.

From June, 1964, more than 80 percent of the growth in jobs occurred in government, services, and trade. With a total this June of 1,435,000, manufacturing employment was slightly above the year-ago level for the second month in a row despite the effect of work stoppages.

Unemployment climbed seasonally to 455,000 in June from 409,000 in May, Albert B. Tieburg, director of employment, announced. An increase in unemployment always occurs in June as the end of the regular school year brings a tide of young people into the labor force. There were 448,000 jobs less in June, 1964.

The California civilian labor force, consisting of the employed and the unemployed available for work and seeking work, was 7,355,000 in June compared with 7,144,000 in June, 1964.

Diabetes Cure Is Closer

Diabetes, an insidious disease affecting more than four million Americans, may soon come under better control, it was revealed recently.

In a surprising article in Pageant Magazine, Dr. Glen W. McDonald, chief of the diabetes program of the U. S. Public Health Service, said that more than two million Americans have diabetes—but don't know it. Almost two million more are diabetics and under medical treatment, he added.

Behind these frightening figures lies the fact that more diabetics are being treated successfully than ever before. These diabetics marry and have children, who then inherit their parent's diabetes gene. USPHS is studying prediabetes in an attempt to achieve an inheritance factor breakthrough.

The greatest hope at present for cutting down on the alarming rise in the diabetes rate is a new test which have enabled doctors to predict with remarkable accuracy who will develop the disease. "The chances of developing diabetes increase in direct proportion to the number of diabetics in the family," the report points out. Other tests, still in the experimental stage, offer the exciting hope that soon doctors will be able to predict and treat diabetes so early that it never actually develops.

What are the symptoms of diabetes? Dr. Sam Smith, a physician-surgeon at the Lemon Grove Medical Group said that diabetes is suspected when the patient develops a sudden increase in thirst or hunger, or has an unexplained loss of weight. Persistent infections of the skin are also often a symptom, he said.

Although science has not yet developed a cure for this disease, finding the prediabetic brings that day much closer. Dr. Smith recommends a yearly blood test to check for the possible development of diabetes. The test takes only slightly less than one minute and requires only a drop of blood, he says.

State Helps Schools As L.G. Values Tumble

The Lemon Grove School Board got a shock Monday night when it was learned that assessed valuations in the Lemon Grove district had dropped $1,650,000 or 5.37 percent.

The drop, measured as school tax money, amounted to $60,000, Byron Netzel, district superintendent reported.

It was later revealed that the drop in income made the district eligible for additional state apportionment amounting to $63,000.

The state aid will make it possible for the district to maintain its present tax level instead of putting in an increase, Netzel said.

The board set Aug. 2 at 8 p.m. as the time when the public hearing of the budget will be held. The budget calls for $2,061,832.

The board elected the following officers for the coming school year: Lyle Stumbaugh, president; Bert Cosby, vice president; Tom Higdon, clerk; and Byron Netzel, secretary.

The board then set the second and fourth Mondays at 8 p.m. as the time for next year's board meetings.

Creditors Finance Many Failures, Credit Man Says

Jerry Lewis, sales manager for the San Diego Wholesale Credit Mens Association, told the Lemon Grove Men's Club Friday that nearly 600 firms are involved in "benefit of creditors" processes with his organization.

The credit association, a non-profit organization, attempts to salvage firms which face bankruptcy "when our creditor-members ask us to."

Lewis pointed out a frightening fact that nearly every firm which faces failure is operating on creditors' financing. Creditors should face this fact and tighten up loose credit practices," he said.

The Men's Club meets each Friday at Michael's at noon for a no-host luncheon. Meetings are open to the male public. Tomorrow's meeting will feature Kay's TwirlingStars, a junior-high-age baton group, which will give a 20-minute demonstration, according to Doug Nairn, program chairman.

Burglar Strikes Six More Shops On Broadway

Six places of business in the 7800-7900 blocks of Broadway, Lemon Grove, were broken into last week. In each case, the burglar gained entry by prying open the back door.

This latest string of burglaries in pre-dawn hours Friday—within a city block of the San Diego County Sheriff's Lemon Grove office—followed by a few weeks another one-night series of four on the opposite side of the street during the weekend of June 19-20.

The only business reporting a loss of more than several dollars was DeAnne's Beauty Salon at 7892 Broadway. Anne B. Priest of Lemon Grove reported the theft of about $50 in bills from the cash box.

Other establishments struck by the burglar were John Michael's Hair Stylists, nothing missing; Lemon Grove Appliance Repair, $4 stolen; John & Julie's Snack Shop, nothing missing; Grove Barber Shop, $3 stolen; Barbara's Beauty Salon, nothing missing.

Tell T. Sandoz of Tell's Watch and Clock Repair, 7880 Broadway, reported he was in his shop at 1:50 a.m. Friday and investigated sounds at the back of the building. He said he saw a man attempting to pry the door open, then when the man saw him, he ran. He told officers the man was about six feet tall, weighed about 200 pounds, and had short dark hair.

Plate Window Smashed Ray Brehm of Brehm Realtor, reported that someone threw a rock through a seven-foot-wide plate glass window on the front of the realty office at 7809 Golden Ave.

'CONVIS' Dinner Attracts 700 The North County was saluted this week on Wednesday as an integral part of San Diego County's expanding visitor industry. The occasion was the dinner meeting of the San Diego Convention and Visitors Bureau held at the Del Mar Turf Club. Nearly 700 citizens from throughout the entire county area attended.

Milton R. Cheverton, retiring bureau president, emphasized the growing influence played by county-wide attractions in drawing visitors to this area. The bureau's gala banquet marked the first time an annual membership meeting has been held outside the city area. A colorful special train ride from San Diego's Santa Fe Depot to the Del Mar Fairgrounds was a special feature, followed by cocktails and then dinner at the Del Mar Turf Club.

A highlight of the banquet was the disclosure that the Bureau's eighth Annual award of merit had been awarded to four major north county attractions including the San Diego County Fair, Del Mar Turf Club, Mission San Luis Rey, and Mount Palomar Observatory. Certificates, signed by Cheverton, were formally presented.

R. C. A. Lubach was officially installed as president. He said: "The big challenge which the entire county has to face is to re-establish San Diego as a great winter resort. Although San Diego is emerging as one of the most exciting communities in America to visit with wide appeal for everyone, we must promote this identity further, especially during the winter months, when San Diego's climate and outdoor recreational facilities are the most appealing to people from outside California."

U. S. Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin, a subscriber to this paper, wrote a personal letter to Farness commending his decision to buy the business and for his optimistic outlook.

Farness had declared in the article that business in this area will "be better before long than anyone thinks it will be. Strategically, we're in a terrific spot. Adjacent shopping centers will help here, rather than hurt. In fact, they are helping to some degree right now," he said.

Congressman Van Deerlin, in an unsolicited reply to the article wrote to Farness:

"I was very pleased indeed to read your optimistic forecast concerning the future of Lemon Grove in a newspaper article reporting your purchase of Brumley's Shoes. I could not refrain from writing not only to offer my congratulations to you on the purchase of the business, but to express my gratification at your forward-looking spirit and views concerning the future of Lemon Grove. Needless to say, I share your views and hopes for that future and I am delighted to know that businessmen such as yourself have such confidence.

"May I express my very best wishes for your future success. Sincerely, Lionel Van Deerlin Member of Congress"

Van Deerlin Slaps Bar On Federal Judgeships

WASHINGTON — Congressmen Lionel V. Deerlin has branded as "incredible" the action of the State Bar of California in opposing legislation to provide four additional federal judgeships in California, including a new district for San Diego and Imperial counties.

The State Bar of California recently went on record as opposing all legislation which did not give seven new judgeships to California.

"The ultimate goal of seven is a desirable," Van Deerlin conceded, "but at a time when prospects at long last are bright for passage of legislation, it is neither desirable nor wise to forsake the immediate acquisition of half a loaf in the doubtful hope of obtaining a whole loaf at some uncertain future date."

"I suspect that the State Bar's position is dictated by a few San Francisco malcontents who are unhappy over court 'branches' to be established in Oakland and San Jose. It means inconvenience for them, and possibly a loss of clientele to TransBay and Peninsula law firms. For so selfish a concern as this, the State Bar would sabotage the rest of California."

Sponsored by Celler

H. R. 4534, the original House measure dealing with the California districting problem, was introduced by Rep. Don Edwards (D-San Jose). H. R. 9168, sponsored by Rep. Emmanuel Celler (D-N. Y.), picked up the language of the Edwards bill. Celler recently dropped his opposition to doubling California districts, and a bill almost identical to his passed the Senate June 29.

"Then along comes the State Bar of California with its bucket of cold water," Van Deerlin said. "I cannot believe that the State Bar speaks for the members of the legal fraternity in San Diego County, or even represents in this instance the views of a fair-sized minority of that group. I have worked closely with San Diego judges and lawyers in their efforts to create a new San Diego-Imperial County District, and I know what they want."

"The State Bar has asked me to support its resolution. I have responded that the resolution was at the least 'astounding' and that I shall continue to press for the enactment of H. R. 9168 with every resource at my command."

Road Department To Be Moved

The County Road Department Division headquarters at 7410 Waite Drive, Lemon Grove, will be moved to Campo Junction prior to September 1, it was learned this week.

The Lemon Grove station, long the headquarters for area road operations, will be reduced to a local unit with a complement of about six men. At present 46 people are employed there.

The new division headquarters will be on Campo Road near the Sweetwater River at Campo Junction. The building to house the operation has been nearly completed.

Ed Singer, division superintendent, will continue in that capacity.

WOMAN'S CLUB BARBECUE

A barbecue luncheon was held this week on Wednesday by the Lemon Grove Woman's Club on the patio of the William Sayward home, 7456 Central Ave.

Model Airplane Meet Scheduled for August

The second annual Model Airplane Meet, sponsored by the San Diego Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Aug. 7 at Colina del Sol Recreation Center, 54th and Orange, East San Diego. It is open to youth 18 and younger throughout San Diego County.

Co-sponsored by the San Diego Recreation Department, the meet will have four divisions: Hand-launched gliders, rubber-powered flying scale models, Navy display models, and gas-powered U-control models.

Instructions, qualifications, and entry blanks have been distributed to hobby shops and recreation centers, according to Jim Alcauskas, Jaycee project chairman.

Trophies and plaques will be awarded in all divisions. During the contest there will be a number of displays of flying skills by members of local model flying clubs.

Social Security Question Box

By Guy Deeks

QUESTION: If I work after I marry, will I lose the social security credit I earned before I was married?

ANSWER: No. The social security credit you earn after you are married will be added to credit you earned before your marriage. That is why we don't change your social security number on our records after you are married, just your name.

QUESTION: Though we hope to have children, I plan to continue in my career after I get married. Since the children and I will be able to get social security benefits based on my husband's record if anything should happen, why should I bother to pay social security?

ANSWER: Because your husband's social security record won't pay you or the children anything unless something happens to him. If you would have to be insured under social security for payments to be made to your children. For example, suppose you became disabled or died, you would have to be insured under social security for payments to be made to your children. For example, suppose you became disabled or died, you would have to be insured under social security for payments to be made to your children. For example, suppose you became disabled or died, you would have to be insured under social security for payments to be made to your children.

QUESTION: Suppose I work until I am 62. As I understand it, I will get a check from my husband's record when he retires. What will happen to my social security?

ANSWER: When you are 65 (or 62, for reduced benefits), you will be eligible for retirement benefits on your own work record. If, however, the amount of your benefit on your husband's account is larger than on your own account, the difference will be added to your monthly benefits—you will be receiving, in other words, the larger of the two benefits for which you have qualified.

QUESTION: I recently started a business and hired a young man to work for me. He said he would bring in his social security account number card but never did. When I pressed him for it, he said he lost his card and the social security office is closed when he is off work so he can't get another. He claims I don't need his number—his name is enough. What am I supposed to do?

ANSWER: Telephone the social security office and ask them to mail you two application forms for numbers, or you can pick them up at any post office. Have the employee complete both copies and send one in to the social security office. Keep the other in case your tax return is due before the card comes back. If your tax return is due before you get the number, attach the second application to the return. It is a good idea to keep a record of the employee's date of birth and parents' names in case the application form gets separated from the return. With this information the Social Security Administration can locate an employee's number. If this should happen, the Baltimore office will write to you for this information.

Bombs in N. Viet Nam Urged by GOP Group

Members of the board of directors of the Lemon Grove Republicans Assembly have unanimously approved a resolution supporting Gerald Ford, Republican house minority leader, in his recommendation that missile bases in North Viet Nam be bombed.

Congressman Ford has been recently criticized for his statement by the Senate majority leader, Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), who has called the proposed bombing of these bases as "tending to stimulate false hopes and unwarranted expectation in this nation."

The resolution stated that "these missile bases provide a sanctuary of protection for the enemy and constitute an additional danger to the safety of our more than 71,000 U. S. boys who are currently risking their lives in Viet Nam," and urged President Johnson to take the necessary steps to stop the advancing forces of communism by winning the war in Viet Nam.

UNDERGROUND WIRING
Placement of electrical and telephone wirings underground in new housing subdivisions is being encouraged by the Federal Housing Administration as part of a program to improve residential design. This would eliminate street-side poles and unsightly overhead wirings.

The developer of new subdivision housing who has not specified underground wiring systems in his plans, must prove to FHA's satisfaction that such systems are not economically feasible for his project.

Young Farmers Paid For Auctioned Animals

Spring Valley young people members of Spring Valley 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America, last week received checks for their animals sold at the San Diego County Fair Junior Livestock Auction.

They attended a party at the First National Bank's El Cajon Valley branch. Each year First National handles the livestock sale, pays the winners for their animals and assumes responsibility of collecting from the purchasers.

This year's auction brought a total of $45,237.19 to about 200 young farmers throughout the county.

The Home Economics competition at the California State Fair, Sept. 1-12, will be in the Woman's Exposition Hall and will feature, jams, jellies, canned goods, pies, cakes, cookies, breads, confections, handicrafts, and needlework.
